Daddy Van Gogh

LA #58 “Midnight at the Carillon” by Kindergarten Daddy, Steve Esslinger

The painting shows the Thomas Rees Memorial Carillon in Washington Park at Midnight. The Carillon is the fifth largest bell tower in the world and one of the few open to the public.

LA #59 “The Orpheum and Café Terrace at Night” by First Grade Daddy, Joe Conlon

The Orpheum was a very grand and ornate downtown theatre that rivaled the Fox Theatre in St. Louis, and maybe the Oriental Theatre in Chicago. It had shopping and bowling alleys. It was torn down in the 1960's due to disrepair. Downtown Springfield is still recovering.

LA #60 “An American President” by Second Grade Daddy, Jim Boehme

Portrait of the Lincoln statue in front of the State Capital.

LA #61 “Capital Avenue” by Third Grade Daddy, Vesslin Oreshkov

View of Capital Avenue in Springfield.

LA #62 “Irish Farmhouse in the Summer” by Fourth Grade Daddy, Mike Mannion

The house is over 100 years old and is still “home base” for the Mannion farming operation in Ireland. My father and his nine siblings were all born in the house.

LA #63 “Saputos” by Fifth Grade Daddy, Mike Coffey

A texture painting of Downtown Saputos and sky.

LA #64 “Shining Spirit” by Sixth Grade Daddy, Joe Aiello

With the golden anniversary, I felt compelled to capture on canvas the centerpiece of our parish. It is where we gather to build upon our foundation of faith and renew our spiritual condition.

LA #65 “Starry Springfield” by Seventh Grade Daddy, Bob Mosley

It is my amateur version of the Van Gogh classic with the capitol instead of the mountain and CTK instead of the steeple church.

LA #66 “Estoille” by Eighth Grade Daddy, Jim Reavy

This painting was inspired by one of Springfield's brightest stars, Abraham Lincoln. In Lincoln's words, actions and spirit are alive and shining upon us in our daily lives. How could I not put Lincoln's image on canvas for all to share? God Bless.
